

Designing Your Life® For Kids

Designing Your Life® for Kids is a once a week interactive coaching series for children ranging from K - 8th grade. Your child will be immersed in our proven methodology (developed and taught globally from MIT, Stanford School of Business, Columbia to London School of Economics) through engaging and empowering lessons. Teaching real life design skills to the most important humans we've got... our own.

Throughout the fall semester, kids will learn:

- How to dream in every area of their life
- Metacognition - investigate their thinking, learn about the voices in their (and all of our!) heads that are currently running the show
- Discover Personal Integrity® through age-appropriate activities
- Learn how to conquer negative beliefs and theories.

To learn more about customized programming for your educational community, or to enroll your child in our next series, contact education@handelgroup.com